Winter in the Otways

GOOD FOOD & GIG GUIDE JULY 2011

Winter is a time for taking stock of the seasons passed and making ready for the farming year ahead. The farmers plough their paddocks and sow their winter crops. Vineyards, olive groves and orchards are pruned and readied for a new season. Fences are mended. The days shorten and become colder. Cattle turn their backs to the wind. Dams spent over the summer begin to refill. Root vegetables appear at the farm gate stands. It's a time for reflection and for savouring the joys of recently harvested produce. Lengthy conversations occur over bottles of wine in front of toasty log fires. Eventually the tell tale signs of another Spring begin to appear....

Come and enjoy all the warmth and hospitality that the Otway Hinterland has to share. Embrace the season by experiencing what's on offer from local businesses and venues, enjoy live music and savour our regional food and produce.

Gosling Creek Wines

Fancy a warm fire on a cold day? A bowl of home-made soup? Fabulous local wines? A chat with the winemaker? Add some great local music and magic views (weather permitting!).

Gosling Creek winery is open on weekends from 11 to 4, with a music special featuring Jarvis Brown and Mountain Grey on 9-10 July, and Steve James every Sunday.
